

Privacy Policy and Cookies Policy of Temple Court Chambers

The information such as your name, phone number and email address you voluntarily provide us through this site by using our “Contact Us” page will be used for the purposes of communicating with your request only. Unless authorised, we will not contact you to send legal updates or our newsletters.

We may disclose personal information if required to do so by law, Court Order or for the purposes of prevention of fraud or other crime or if we believe that such action is necessary to protect and defend the rights, property or personal safety of our chambers and members.

International data transfers

Information that we collect may be stored and processed in and transferred between any of the countries in which members of Chambers operate in order to enable us to use the information in accordance with this privacy policy.

Information which you provide may be transferred to countries which do not have data protection laws equivalent to those in force in the European Economic Areas (EEA).

You expressly agree to such transfers of personal information.

Security of your personal data

We will take reasonable technical and organisational precautions to prevent the loss, misuse or alteration of your personal information. Data transmission over the internet is insecure and we cannot guarantee the security of data sent over the internet.

The EU e-privacy Directive 2009 (the “Directive”)

Under the Directive which amended the Privacy and Electronic Communications Regulations 2003 we can store cookies on your computer if they are essential to the operation of this site but for all other “non-essential” cookies we need your permission to do so.

Cookies

Cookies are small text files that are placed on your computer by websites that you visit. They are widely used in order to make websites work, or work more efficiently to improve the user experience, as well as to provide certain information to the owners of the site. Some cookies expire at the end of each session and some remain for longer so that when you return to our website you will have a better user experience.

Cookie Consent

Web browsers allow you to exercise some control of cookies through the browser settings. Most browsers enable you to block cookies or to block cookies from particular sites. Browsers can also help you to delete cookies when you close your browser. You should note however, that this may mean that any opt-outs or preferences you set on the site will be lost.

Most browsers allow you to reject all cookies whilst some browsers allow you to reject just third party cookies.

By using the Chambers website, you consent to the collection and use of your information by Chambers as set out in this internet privacy and cookie policy. If we change our privacy and cookie policy in any way, these changes will be posted on this page.

If you have any questions, concerns or comments, please email the Chambers clerk.